TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS. DEAR' SIE -- I trust that my ten letters have not altogether tired the patience of your readers, as I must vet add another, if only to deprecate, most earnestly, the military ism which appears to dominate, this hostile movement against Takpingeban. I give place to no one in affectionate. loyalty to the throne, or in admiration for the courage and devotion displayed by its defenders, but I say that neither Britain at home nor abroad is to be governed by her soldiers and that one year's military Government of Hongkong would rain for ever the commercial prospects of this Colony: The dealing with this plague was and is essentiall a municipal duty; and I consider it open to serious question whether the noceptance of the military service so generously valuntaeval, was either necessary or disoret It has had the offeet of slienating the trust and shaking the confidence of our native population, and of ten times as many Chinese on the mainland, with whom constant communication is carried on, and it will take a long time to recover this. Every allowance must be made for the position of uffirs in the colony which hat place it comes from, irrespective of the real prevailed ast June and whilst those things which have been done cannot be recalled, the doing of unvthing calculated to intensity and influes this An agreement between France and England irritation should be most sempalously avoided. The best that can be said is shat the force was majeure, and the circumstances altogether excentional. It must, however, always by remembarod that the ratis the widest gulf between civil and military processes. Soldiers one never do follows :policemen's work; and the policeman should never imitate, evan in title or in diess the soldiers. There is, however, on the part of some The United States Senate at Washington has joivilians an apparent eagerness to march round the inclused area, trampet in hand, assured that the walls must presently fall down. A passenger on the transway vesterday was heard to question. the wisdom of the Superintendent of the Fire Brigade in extinguishing a tire which broke out within the area. Amongst the medico-military also and in our other case there has been a good doal of " my little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins. This may be natural in very young men, but is hardly to be expected from maturity. The suggestion of the Lancet that statements as to the bacillas being the oansa of disease should be received with cantion is instructive; and from this we may fairly infer the caution against being too readily led away either by Dr. Sangrado or by Dr. Kooh. Where should we have been f the blood letting of the last century had not been stormed, and to be made acquaisted, even in the most superficial manner, with the more resent discoveries of bacteria and bacilli is quite enough to destroy the comfort of existence. Again we have, on the one hand, the incolon!able homographic attenuations of Habnemann and pills by the bushel, recommended and accepted by the public, on the other. When doctors disagree who shall decide? We have here one military medico, to whom the colony is much indabted for his active assistance recommending that the Calpingulan area to a depth of four feet be carled away bodily. Another expresses the belief that the subsoil of the whole uren of Hongkong is just as bad; whilst other medical men in high position, including some who have practiced here for ball a life time, day that there is no danger in the soil at all, and several others, whilst admitting that the soil is necessarily impregnated with sewage, strongly advisa that it ba disturbed as little as possible. One medical authority has delivered himself very certainly that the plague will return upon us If it does so at some future time, it will find us prepared and the conditions producing predisposition in our people will be wanting. The key may be there, but the look will have been changed, and the door will remain, closed. The assumption of anything like infallibility in a matter so could us this plague, in which no

MR J. T. ROES THEORY THA INFLUENZA IS ENDEMIC IN CHINA.

BY JAMES CANTLIE, M.A. M.B. F.B.C.S.

The following paper by Dr. Cantlie appears Imperial Maritime Customs :--In the continent of Asia raports of the prevalence of influency have been made from Siberia Thibet, Tonkin, Singapore, Penang, China. India, and Japan, in the order givon. In Hongkong we have not been without diversity of opinion as to the name. In fact. one or two medical men refuse to recognise the lisense which has prevailed here as influence. We have had a repotition of names such as one sees in the medical journals-"dengue fever fever with cheumatic pains," faver wit pidemie estarth," and such like. ours proof, if suph were needed, that we have had inflience, as the presence of the disease has provoked similar contentions to all parts of the But a peon! lar interest attaches to influence in China. The russians call it a Chinese disease, and for an he we know to the contrary, they may be right - Whether they morely regard the prasent epidemic as arising there, or whether they agaird the diseas to endemio in China. I have not yet been able to assertain. It may merals he that they called the disease Chinese in the same way as the people in Western Europe called it Russian inflaenza and the residents in Hongkong called the second visitation of the discase Shanghai infl tonza; and so on. The disease, in fact, is named, as many others are, from the

But an attempt has been made to focus influenza upon China. In a paper read before the Balloon Society discuse. The statements are referred to by South China where the climate lessons the risk broke out in Central and South China where the climate lessons the risk broke out in Central and South China influenza is regarded as peculiarly a Chinese numerous London papers, and in the Hong. of lung troubles to a great extent, compared with Eastern Africa kong Daily Press they are commented upon as that of a colder climate.

"Mr. James Thorne Roe, C.E., at a recent meeting of the Balloon Society, read a paper in which he contended that influence is a Chinese marsh feyor. The lecturer illustrated his theory by referring to the Yellow River, which is 2,400 miles in length, and which he contended was the real home and sent of the disease. igned tions, he said caused the deposit over an immense tract of country of the lines nitary filth of populous cities and fowns, and to the must be added the o lamity of 1857, caused by the bursting of its embankment burying in the and ontire villages with their milhous of inhabitants. In support of this i ea the leather quoted the eruption of Krakatoa volcago in Angust 1883, the cloud of dust from which in reported by the Committee of the Royal Society to have passed three times round the globe from this fact the lecturer argued the connexion between the countries of the West with the marshy districts of China, the fever gorms from which undoubtedly float in the air and may travel. indefinitely. He thought moreover, that these mild weather imparting to them life and energy, and they would probably thrive best in low or marshy districts and on the banks of rivers.

The writer goes on to say All this sounds plausible enough, but we should like to hear what the members of medical profession practising here and in the treaty ports have to say on the subject. the appealled influence bossess any great affinity to the fovers prevalent here and in China P If to, how is it that the disease has become epidemic in the Western world when here it is only

It is the statements made by Mr. Ree and the comments made by the local press which it beoves us to onswer, and I propose to do so by attempting to excite discussion on the subject. Ou instituting an inquiry we have to decide-
